

BPI Group's Career Launch for College Seniors, Recent Graduates & Early Careerists

Are you a college senior or recent graduate approaching the job search process? Or are you an 'early careerist' exploring your first job change? If so, SSP BPI Group, your Chicagoland career coaching professionals, offers workshops and individual coaching designed to help! Our approach is unique. While our program focuses on the key aspects of the job search, such as interviewing, networking, résumé development and technology, we also realize that to be happy and successful you need to understand:

- Your passions, interests, needs and direction
- The skills, values, experiences, accomplishments and characteristics you bring to the marketplace
- How to 'sell' yourself to the job market

We help recent college grads and 'early careerists' answer these questions in a comfortable, casual workshop environment that allows them to openly interact and learn from each other.

The Workshop

A one day, interactive and facilitated discussion with other students and early careerists which helps the young job seekers to:

- explore their offer to the marketplace
- better define what they are looking for
- develop a job search plan that integrates interviewing,
- networking, resume development and technology.

In addition, participants will complete both the Meyers Briggs and the Strong Inventory – universally recognized tools used to assess their individual strengths, preferences and motivators.

Testimonials

"Thank you for the opportunity to attend this workshop. It has been a great launching pad for my career search"

- Allison, Wisconsin, '07

"What I got the most out of it is a different perspective on the job search."

- Bryan, Notre Dame, '07

"Again, thank you very much for this seminar opportunity! It was really helpful and gave me much more confidence in my search for a job."

- Kevin, Northern Illinois, '05

"The workshop definitely exceeded my expectations as far as the array of areas we covered. It was great to touch on so many different topics (interviewing, resumes, the assessments and exercises, etc...). It really made the day fly by, and got me thinking about many different aspects of choosing and pursuing a career as well as looking for a job."

- Nikki, Michigan State, '07

"The stories, reflection and suggestions were very helpful. I really do feel better already about the job search process."

- Amanda, Cornell, '07
